

MK:429

Lightweight Outdoor Microphone

Features

- Lightweight Portable Outdoor Microphone System
- Ideal for Short term and overnight measurements
- Compatible with MV:200B and MV:200C Preamplifiers
- Integral Windshield and Birdspikes
- Can be used with any ZL:200 Series Microphone Cable

Operation

The MK:429 is a lightweight Outdoor Microphone unit designed to provide weather protection to an MV:200 Series Preamplifier and Class+ Microphone Capsule such as the MK:224 and MK:226 units.

The removable MV:200B and MV:200C Preamplifiers are supplied as standard on current Type 1 Cirrus brand Sound Level Meters and as an option on Type 2 Sound Level Meters.

This allows Sound Level Meters such as the CR:703B and CR:800A Series to be used for short term outdoor measurements.

Please note that the MK:429 does not provide weather protection for the Sound Level Meter. Precautions should be taken to ensure that the Sound Level Meter is not exposed to adverse weather conditions.

Tripod not supplied as standard

MK:429

Applications

The MK:429 is not designed for long term use, and where measurements are required for extended periods or where the weather conditions are adverse, an alternative system such as the MK:437 or MK:438 units should be used. For further details please contact NoiseMeters B.V on sales@noisemeters.com.

The MK:429 is compatible with the MV:200B and MV:200C Preamplifiers provided by NoiseMeters B.V. and can be used with any of the ZL:2xx Microphone Extension Cables such as the ZL:205 5m unit to connect to a Sound Level Meter.

The MK:429 can also be used to enhance the performance of a CR:280 Series Noise Nuisance Recorder such as the CR:281A unit allowing the microphone to be placed outdoors.
